KEVIN ARCHER

GOLDENBOY OF THE BAHAMIAN SPECIAL OLYMPICS WORLD

A Special Achievement!

KEVIN ARCHER

In 1987, Kevin Archer flew to The United States for his very first International Special Olympics Competition held in Indiana at the University of Notre Dame. Who knew that this Bahamian wonder would strike gold on his first try; outlasting 60 international countries participating in the event! Again, in 2007, Kevin Archer emerged as the world champion a second time in Shanghai, China; defeating Switzerland to claim the Gold medal at yet another International Special Olympics. Now a qualified Special Olympics Level-3 Coach, 2 time Gold medalist Kevin Archer gives back to his community on a weekly basis. Now that is a special achievement!

To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Kevin Archer

I am pleased to have been asked to write a letter of reference for Kevin Archer.

Kevin has been involved in Special Olympics Bahamas as a tennis athlete for several years having represented the Bahamas and winning gold medals at two World Games. For the past 3 years he has been assisting our tennis coach, Bradley Bain, with training other Special Olympics athletes in tennis skills.

Kevin is an honest, hard working young man who, once he understands what he has to do, will be an asset to any establishment. His parents are upstanding members of the society who believe in adhering to Christian morals and they have raised their children to be the same way.

If Kevin is given the chance, I know that he will do his best to perform his duties at a very high standard.

Thank you for considering him for employment.

Yours in Special Olympics,

Amanda Moncur
National Director

To whom it may concern

Re: Kevin Archer

I write in my capacity as Director of Hopedale Centre to provide this reference for the above captioned whom I have known for more than two decades. He is a polite, well-mannered young man, indeed, a "people's-person" whose presence would enrich the service team of any establishment. Over the years Kevin has been exposed to a broad range of vocational options, concepts and skills, but he has always been strongly drawn to the game of tennis and with practice and determination has become quite adept at the sport. He is honest and reliable - an individual who has set and maintained high moral standards for himself.

Kevin's prowess with the tennis racket resulted in him being selected to represent his country on three separate occasions as part of the Bahaman contingent at the World Games of Special Olympics International-the team medal count increased by one silver and two bronze, the latter to Kevin's credit. Lately, Kevin has returned to Special Olympics as one of the volunteer coaches.

I am proud of Kevin's ambition and the progress he is making. However, more importantly, Kevin too is proud of his own accomplishments and sees the opportunity to be considered by your establishment as something he would never have dreamed possible in the past. This has certainly boosted his self-esteem.

I am excited about recommending Kevin. I am particularly happy that I can recommend your corporation to Kevin as a business sensitive to the needs of their specially challenged personnel.

If there are any specific enquiries, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Arlene Davis

Centre Director

RE: KEVIN DEXTER ARCHER

This is to state that the captioned person, Kevin, has worked with our establishment for more than 10 years on a part-time basis as a doorman, a handyman moving stocks for shelving, and running miscellaneous errands from time to time.

Kevin is well-mannered and has a pleasing personality with both staff and customers. Kevin has performed the duties assigned to him to our satisfaction.

Yours faithfully,
